IOWA FIRST TO SCORE

OHIO STADIUM, Oct. 27.—The busy Iowa football machine rolled over Ohio State's defense during the first half of their game here today. At the end of the second period the Hawkeyes led, 13 to 0, having marched almost the length of the field on four occasions. Six of the Iowa points resulted from drop kicks by Fisher, while Scantlebury, a substitute quarterback, scored a touchdown in the second period. Iowa mixed forward passes with line plunges and end runs to work the ball down the field. Ohio seemed extremely well defensively, but showed a flash of form on long forward passes. He carried them to the Hawkeye 13-yard line as the half ended.

OHIO STADIUM, October 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—A bright sun shined down on Ohio Stadium this afternoon as Ohio State and Iowa took the field for their annual gridiron battle. It was an ideal football day and a crowd estimated at 40,000, the largest that has entered the stadium since last season, was on hand. The game was one in which both teams were seeking revenge. Ohio State for its 23-0 defeat by Michigan last Saturday, and Iowa for its loss to Illinois in which the Hawkeyes were beaten.

The team that fights hardest will win was Coach Jones' final prediction for the Iowa team. Jack Wilce, Buckeye mentor admitted that it would be a hard battle but ventured no prediction on the outcome.

Tumults at the stadium flattered gently in the breeze, indicating that the wind would have little effect on the game.

Mrs. Phoebe Crabtree of near Stockdale will leave for Columbus today to attend the funeral of her son, L. B. Crabtree, who died at his home on Cleveland, O., Wednesday evening. Mr. Crabtree, a former Scioto county man, was engaged in the grocery business in Columbus and died after a two weeks illness.

Two brother John and Milton Crabtree of this city and one sister, Mrs. C. C. Horton of near McDermott, and Mr. Crabtree's mother are the other immediate relatives in Scioto county.

James H. Watkins

James H. Watkins, son of John H. and Sophia Jane Watkins, was born at Piketon, Ohio, January 25, 1856, and died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Scioto Lopez, in Waverly, Ohio, on the 24th day of October, 1923, aged 67 years 8 months and 29 days.

His father and one brother died in the defense of the Union in the Civil War, leaving the subject of this sketch together with his mother and her family of boys and girls in the care of a life without the aid of a father, but by dint of industry and perseverance they all arose to stations of prominence or usefulness.

In 1877 he was married to Phoebe Craig, of Bear Creek, Scioto county, Ohio. To this happy union one child, now Mrs. Scioto Fishback, of Portsmouth, Ohio, was born. His wife preceded him to the Great Beyond several years ago.

He occupied many positions of honor and trust, and during his long and useful life he was Sheriff of Pike county, Guard of the Ohio Penitentiary and a police officer of the city of Portsmouth. During his earlier life he ran a store at Coopersville, Ohio, for his brother, the late Hon. George H. Watkins and his brother-in-law, the Hon. G. F. Lawman; he also owned a store of his own for several years.

He was a kind-hearted and indulgent husband and father, an open open-handed and generous neighbor and a good citizen, and no one, be he rich or poor, ever asked a favor of James H. Watkins. It was not readily granted it in his power to do so. He was always generous to the poor, having been left a poor boy by the death of his father he knew how to sympathize with the poor in their distresses and he never failed them if it was in his power to render assistance.

He was strictly honorable in all his dealings with his fellowmen and had the confidence and respect of all with whom he came in contact and had to do in a business.

He leaves to mourn his death one daughter, Mrs. Scioto Fishback, of Portsmouth; one grandson, Raymond Horning; one sister, Mrs. Scioto Lopez, of Waverly, Ohio, with whom he made his home in his last years, and a host of friends and acquaintances who will always remember his many good deeds and acts of kindness.

James H. Watkins is dead, but the good deeds of a long and useful life still live, and who will not say that the world is better by James H. Watkins having lived in it.

A FRIEND.

Ohio took a 2-yard penalty for time out to confer. A long pass, was knifed down by the Iowa back-field. Ohio again conferred. Cunningham caught a forward pass from Workman giving his team first down on the Hawkeye 13-yard line. Cunningham made a beautiful catch. Another Ohio pass was grounded behind the goal posts and the period ended. Score, end second period: Iowa, 13; Ohio State, 0.

Lancaster has a well-oiled grid machine and it is sure to be in smooth working order to-morrow. Indications are for fine weather and a big crowd.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't irritate the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong pills. It is best not to take calomel. Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. "Dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "fogy" and "lazy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 50c. Advertisement.

that was a sub-conscious move of self-defense when he scented trouble.
"And since then—well, frankly, doctor, John was very much upset about last Sunday's sermon. Mr. Gilchrist preached from the text about the rich man entering the kingdom of heaven."
"Always a trifle dangerous," agreed the rector.
"Yes, and last Sunday it seemed as if he was directing all his remarks at John. We're in the first pew, you know, and John says he doesn't like to complain, but there's getting to be altogether too much of this—holshieism. John says the preachers are more than half to blame for the present social unrest. I agree that some of the sermon was positively insulting."
"Mr. Gilchrist is young," the rector interposed.
"Gilchrist is a nut," Jerry snorted.
"Of course, what John objected to was the reference to reus—to charging clerks and bookkeepers more than they could pay for 'wretched little flats'! John says he doesn't come to be told how to run his business."
"Personally, I'm very fond of Mr. Gilchrist," Mrs. Gilliam declared. "His father had stock in our stores. But I don't think he's a good influence. This used to be a really exclusive church. Now, whenever Mr. Gilchrist preaches, there's such a crush of undesirable people in the galleries you can hardly get to your pew. We don't have that trouble with Dr. Wadhams."
"No one noticed Clara Jewett, who had entered and stood in the black shadows that made the chair-room door part of the wall."
"Mr. Gilchrist was such a promising young man," sighed Mrs. Tice. "So rich and happy."
"And in love," added Dilly.
"He's still rich and in love and I think, happy," Dr. Wadhams affirmed.
"I've told you, he's a nut," Jerry repeated emphatically.
"I wonder—" Mrs. Gilliam contemplated. "He wasn't like this before he went overseas. Maybe he was gossiped—or something."
CHAPTER III
Rhinelander 6942

CLARA JEWETT advanced her arms laden with packages.

"Oh, how do you do, Miss Jewett," Dr. Wadhams greeted her unenthusiastically.

"I'm very well, thank you." There was a certain defiance and a trifle of uncertainty in her bearing which perplexed Clara Jewett. Until she was 20, she had been a creature of whim and emotion. Her father's death at that time had not been wholly disaster. It had left her with problems to face. Meeting these, she had learned to think, reflect and to consider.

At 25 the metamorphosis was only half completed. With still struggling with purpose. She could not have explained why she had promised to marry Daniel Gilchrist. A psychologist would have said it was because one side of her nature told her he would be successful and the other side, that he would be faithful, not only to her but to his ideals. Both sides liked him. That was enough.

It was Jerry who brushed aside the rather uncomfortable situation.
"Hello, Clara!" he said. "This is a—"

Mrs. Wadhams caught the relief instantly.
"Surprise! Ha!" she laughed. "And you've been waiting for her half an hour."

Mr. Wadhams saw an opportunity, too.
"Can't I help with those packages?" he asked, stepping to her side.

"Thank you, doctor," she replied as he relieved her. "And Mr. Hinkle's in there praying for someone to consult about the Christmas music."

"I told Mr. Hinkle the choir'd better begin singing, 'Peace, Perfect Peace, With the Loved Ones Far Away,'" the rector answered.

The idea seemed to amuse Dilly. She began chanting "My Wife's Gone to the Country," but her possessiveness lasted only until her mother could hush her. The doctor placed the packages with the others at the foot of the giant tree. Mrs. Tice halted him at the door of the choir room.

"And doctor, about the parish house. Shall I tell my husband you'll speak to Mr. Gilchrist?"
"Yes," he said. "I think you may even tell him that's why we're here today."

That done, and done well, Mrs. Tice turned to go. An offer to drive them

Relief Fund For Japan Is Near Ten And Half Millions

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The American Red Cross, through John Barton Payne, its chairman, reported today to President Coolidge that it had raised $10,448,702 for Japanese earthquake relief and that the entire amount had been or would be actually delivered to the earthquake sufferers either in the form of cash or supplies. None of the money was expended on personnel.
President Coolidge, in a letter replying to Mr. Payne's report, declared "It should be a source of satisfaction to those generous citizens who answered the appeal for relief, that the entire amount of their gifts will be actually delivered to the Japanese sufferers in the form of either cash or supplies."

Boys And Dogs Join In Street Parade

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 27.—Bark, bark, bark! and wool, wool, wool! and frequently a startling snarl resounded through the streets today when the first parade of boys and dogs ever seen in Cincinnati took place.
It marked the starting of boys' week and the boys unrolled proudly with their pets. In the line were big dogs and little dogs, brown dogs and yellow dogs, small dogs and large dogs, quite bald, long dogs and short dogs.
Prizes were awarded to the "typical boy" and to various kinds of dogs in the odd pageant.

Aviator's Stunts Reach "Peak of Daredevilry"

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(By the A. P.)—The peak of daredevilry in aeronautics was reached by First Lieut. M. L. Elliott, who not only flew upside down on a straightaway course for half a mile, but, hanging by a safety belt for the benefit of photographers, the stunt was performed in a treacherous wind and produced frequent thrills that brought shudders even to callous army aviators.
The topsy turvy record topped off a series of other daring feats by Lieut. Elliott. One of these was to describe the figure 8 while flying upside down. Several loops and weird maneuvers also were executed. The most Lieut. Elliott could get out of the little Speery messenger in making the figure eight was 65 miles an hour. A 35-mile wind increased the velocity of flight.

Student Is Slain By Policeman's Shot At Champaign, Ills.

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., October 27.—Phil Sharp, 22, a freshman at the University of Illinois, was shot and killed here tonight by J. D. Hillier, a motorcycle policeman and freshman at the university.
The shooting occurred as Sharp and Alexander Schulz, son of Prof. W. T. Schulz, of the department of physics of the university were preparing to attend the Northwestern-University football game at Chicago tomorrow, according to the police.
The boys, the police learned, bought an old automobile and used it, intending to go to the football game in it. According to the police, they went out tonight to obtain tires and were discovered by Hillier taking a tire from another car.
Hillier, according to the police, called upon the youths to halt. Instead Schulz fled in the car, and Sharp ran down an alley. Hillier fired at Sharp killing him almost instantly. Schulz was arrested and is being held for questioning. The police said they found tires and automobile accessories taken from other cars in the machine the boys had intended to use for their trip.

ROMANCT FATAL TO ART Says Maeterlinck's Former Wife

"I shall never love again," declares Georgette LeBlanc. This is a found rumor that the former wife of the poet Maeterlinck was contemplating marriage with a wealthy American upon the completion of her present tour of the United States.

"I live alone for my art now," she says, "romance is fatal to an artist. I have had my romance. Now I shut my mind on it."

Be that as it may, the sparkling Georgette is more sparkling than ever. She has arrived from Paris with friends and friends of exclusive but not of the Parisian type. She is looking for recitals all over the United States. Many of them will bring her a thousand dollars an appearance.

Testimony read today related to the charges involving censorship of the press, the issuance of a deficiency certificate for a state home for negro orphans, and campaign expenses.

Walter, who may be fatally injured, and Deeds, who was shot in the side and arm, are under guard in a local hospital.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Oct. 27.—(By the A. P.)—Gov. J. C. Walton, late yesterday, was ordered to trial before a Senate Court of Impeachment on November 1 on official misconduct charges presented by the Lower House of the State Legislature.

The Senate set the trial date to conform to the law allowing the Governor six days in which to file his answer to the allegations and enter a plea. It was said, however, that should the extreme penalty to the charges before land, the trial immediately would be started.

CAMERAGRAMS

TRY THIS WHEN THE FURNACE FAILS. Frances Kohler of Seattle loves the light fantastic best when she can sally forth on a dance floor covered with ice and snow. This picture was taken in Kalmer National Park, Wash., where flowers and glaciers meet in Paradise Valley.

DEVIL DOG LEADER. Elevation to the rank of brigadier general is expected to be conferred on Colonel Benjamin Fuller of the U. S. marine corps. The veteran's home is in Big Rapids, Mich. But he has been stationed at Quantico, Va., since 1922.

SMILIN' BAREFOOT BOY. This happy youngster is an orphan, but you never could guess it from looking at him. He is one of the hundreds of such unfortunate made parentless by the war who were brought over to Canada as immigrants and given fine homes on Interior Department farms. We wish 'im luck. Poor kid!

PRESENTING A SHARP FRONT. The U. S. S. Marblehead is shown sliding down the ways at launching time in Cranp's shipyard, Philadelphia. Mrs. Hannah Evans of Marblehead, Mass., christened the man-of-war which can develop 100,000 horsepower from its turbine engines. Reports are, though, that she dashed a bottle of aqua pura instead of champagne, against the bow as the cables fell away.

FIRST CANINES OF THE LAND. That's what Peter Pan (above) and Paul Pry, nee Laddie Buck, are. They're official White House pets, and have replaced the late President Harding's Laddie Boy in the mansion kennels. Something's evidently arresting their attention. All now the secret's out. A big, yellow tabby cat has just climbed the fence and hisses battle. Doggone it!

H. C. L. HAS HIT TEPEE LAND. Osage Indians sent Chief Bacon Rind, shown above, to the great White Father down in Washington to see if he couldn't extract a few more nickels from Uncle Sam's pocket for maintenance of the tribe. Bacon Rind presented his plea in eloquent manner. "Make 'em heap much," quoth he, to treasury heads.

TEAR UP THE CHILD AND TAKE THE PAPERS. JACK DALTON! These gentlemen are not acting a melodrama, nor fighting an affaire d'honneur. They're just movie actors appearing in one of Mary Pickford's recent photoplays. And the swords have corks on the end, too. But you can't see that. Neither can we.

BUT NOT A DROP TO DRINK! This abbreviated steal from the poets seems to fit Commissioner of Prohibition Roy D. Haynes, shown here coming out of the White House after conferring with his presidential chief. Wonder if he's got any sponges in his pocket? And note that foxy look on his face, wudja?

REAL HAPPINESS IS IN THE HEART AFORE. These Jesuit fathers at Santa Clara University in California are rounding out lives of service and sacrifice to their fellow men. But they're contented as you can tell by the look upon their faces. Seated is Rev. Richard, nationally famous astronomer and meteorologist.

CHICKEN AFTER DUCK. Who said anything about menus? We didn't. But if you don't think the title fits, just tell Marjorie Daw, famous movie star, who's the bold nimrod (or should it be nimrodess?) in the picture. She got tired of being shot at by the camera all day, and decided to do a little hunting.

ROSE AMID THE THORNS. Here you see Miss Margaret Zolnay, debutante daughter of the noted sculptor, George Zullian Zolnay, in her father's garden at Washington. She has a pet dog that stands on tip-toe and begs for sweetmeats. Bet she a lot of men will seek the fair lady's hand by begging for it on their knees before long.

GOSH ALL FISH HOOKS! Traffic cops scattered and passersby looked on with wonderment when Lieutenant Edwin Johnson piloted this speedy little Sperry messenger plane within two inches of Riverside drive, New York, past Grant's tomb, shown to the left. He didn't land because such an attempt proved disastrous on a former occasion.

LADY! LADY! BE CAREFUL! Mere men who gaze upon this lovely profile of Mildred June, celebrated screen star, do so at their own risk. We're not responsible for any heartaches that result, 'cause June only dropped in to say hello and had no intention, whatsoever, to linger longer. Say! Ain'tem ever going to read this?

IT IS YOUR AFFAIR

THE municipal election is near at hand and so far there has been little stir on either side of the party fence. Both Democrats and Republicans seem content to conduct a gun shoe campaign, depending on organization and party loyalty to win. The campaign has been one of particularly good taste and free from personalities, and it must be said that so far as the general public is concerned, not much interest has so far been displayed in the outcome.

And yet the people of Portsmouth should be vitally interested in the outcome of the election. The proper and economical administration of affairs for the next two years hinges upon the outcome. If good officials are chosen for the various departments, if men are elected who will devote themselves conscientiously to their duties, all will be well. If unfit or careless men are selected, the public will suffer correspondingly.

The candidates of the two parties for mayor are both young men of good character, and good standing. Both have had experience in municipal affairs. Mr. Calvert, the Republican candidate, served four years as director of public service during the administration of former mayor, H. H. Kaps. Mr. Gableman, the Democratic candidate, has served two terms as city auditor and is now finishing his second term as mayor. He is asking re-election on his record in office. It is interesting to note that criticism of Mayor Gableman's record has been confined largely to fault-finding and to minor matters. On the general administrative record of his office, there has been silence, not criticism. And there could be little justifiable criticism of the general administration of affairs. Mr. Gableman has brought to public service a thorough understanding of municipal problems, a deep interest in public welfare, and indefatigable industry. He has kept pace with municipal problems, and is undoubtedly the best informed man locally on all phases of city affairs. His effort, as mayor, has been along progressive lines. He has worked with the means at hand; he has kept the city within its income, his administration has been free from corruption and scandal. Naturally, with his constant endeavor to better city administration, Mayor Gableman has not always pleased all the people. There have been times when many thought he made mistakes. That is to be expected. No man can run a city and run it right, without tramping on some people's toes or inviting criticism, or occasionally making mistakes. But the big things accomplished far outweigh the minor mistakes.

The next two years will be important years in Portsmouth's progress. More than two million dollars worth of work in improvement lines will come up. The importance of the work calls for experience and the utmost competency in city management.

Taking all things into consideration The Times believes that Mayor Gableman's thorough knowledge of municipal affairs, his devotion to duty, his recognized capacity for administration, all call for his re-election on November sixth.

LET US DO THE RIGHT THING

AMONG the numerous proposals to be submitted to the voters at the November election, will be one to authorize the issuance of one hundred thousand dollars in bonds to build a new jail.

It is one that The Times can unreservedly recommend to the approval of the public. Scioto county is in sad and sore need of a new jail. One is demanded not alone of necessity, but in humanity and common decency. The present structure meets neither modern requirements nor immediate demands upon it. It is unsafe and unsanitary. It is inadequate in every respect. Every grand jury, summoned within the past twenty years, each being specially charged to inquire into the condition of the public buildings, has condemned it.

Going farther than that a new jail is demanded in public respect. Soon Scioto county will have a new court house, likely a year from now. That court house, we know from the plans, will be a noble and beautiful structure, something that every citizen can be proud of and that will be the glory of the county for a hundred years to come. It will be one thing built right and adequately.

Yes, some fellow will say, that's it. "First they wanted money for a new court house, now they want money for a jail. Soon they will be asking for more money for the court house."

That is not the case; it is not going to be the case. The court house will be built under the bond issue. There should be no possible question as to that.

There should be a jail in keeping with the court house. There has got to be a new one in a short time anyway and while we are building it, the best policy is to build it right. Scioto county has grown to be one of the big counties of the state. She is going to grow bigger. Her public buildings are her shame and disgrace. They are the worst in the state, with the possible exception of those of poor little Vinton.

We must respect ourselves in order that others respect us. Vote for the jail bonds, showing you have both faith and pride in your home.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Every block in New York has its almost hourly rumormongers and "little" mysteries. It might be a slight, inconsequential thing, but back of it hangs the haze of enigma. People see and hurry on, perhaps wondering.

In front of the Gaiety theatre is a blind newspaper seller. He stands a swaying, sightless figure. Yet shopkeepers nearby will tell you that every afternoon at three a beautiful woman alights from a motor car nearby and walks up to him. She kisses him and hurries on, and passes on. He shows no recognition nor emotion.

And in front of a church in hard-boiled Forty-Seventh street every Saturday morning appears an old, bent man wearing a cape and carrying a cane. He plays a few strains of "Nearer My God To Thee" and disappears.

Sourveant Square knows the "parrot woman." She is middle-aged and is always dressed in purple. At dusk she comes to the square with a chattering parrot perched on her shoulder. She sits silent for a half hour and then scatters bits of white paper to the wind.

At the information bureau in Grand Central station duty comes a courtly, white-haired gentleman. He carries a gold knobbed cane and dresses with dignity. His question is always the same: "Any news of a wreck at Albany?" he inquires. Receiving the answer, he bows and leaves.

In a drug store in Times Square there is a bench for waiting users of the telephone. Two men meet there every day at noon. They never exchange salutations or conversation of any sort. Each holds out his watch very solemnly for the other to look at and then go separate ways.

Down at the Players Club a flower week an old lady leaves a flower for Edwin Booth, founder of the club. But perhaps the most tragic of all is the sad-faced old woman who often goes to the Battery wall near midnight, shakes her fist at the sea and cries: "He led to me, but I forgive him." She leaves in tears.

Chinatown—yon wagon larklers to the contrary—has less crime than any other section of Manhattan. There was a time when the sawed off shot-guns used to bark and leave the pile of dead and wounded in Mott, Doyers and Pell streets, but that is history. Tongue wars are now fought with silver voiced diplomacy. So it is the Chinese Merchants' Association has asked the police to outfit the rubberneck wagon guides who point out peaceful shops as innocuous dens of vice. Of course, Chinatown thrives on visitors, yet it resents being placed in a false light. Chinatown has found that it would have thousands more visitors if strangers did not fear the section. Chinatown is just as safe as Park Avenue at any hour of the day or night.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

TONIGHT
Mysterious night! when our first parent knew
Thee from report divine, and heard thy name,
Did not tremble for this lovely frame,
This glorious canopy of light and dew.
Bathed in the rays of the fire at setting time,
Hesperus with the host of heaven came,
And lo! Creation widened in man's view.

Who could have thought such dark-guess lay concealed
Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find
Whistly fly and leaf and insect seed revealed,
That to such countless orbs thou mad'st us blind!
Why do we then shun death with anxious strife,
If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not life?
—Joseph Blanco White.

Seeking Information.
Mr. Nowrich—Oo's the guy on the pedestal?
Butler (in the absence of the Marquis of Blankshire, showing a visitor round the ancestral home)—That sir, is a bust of Marcus Aurelius.
Mr. Nowrich—Indeed, an' wot relation nill 'e be to the present Markis?
London Passing Show.

Not a Chance.
"He's marrying a very rich girl."
"I'm sorry for him."
"But this is a love match purely."
"That may be, but he'll never be able to convince his friends of that."

The Best Vacation Spot.
I lately received a letter from a man which contained a significant sentence. Speaking of vacations, of private cars and yachts, and the great pleasure resorts of the country, he said he didn't greatly care for them. "After all," he said, "there is no place like the old shop with the wheels whizzing." Millions of our best and most useful men find pleasure in the old shop with the wheels whizzing.—Ed. Howe.

Close But Not Intimate.

Playing the Game
In a certain New England village where the Sunday church attendance was small lived a young widow who had taken quite a fancy to the minister. She could see that he also cared for her, but was evidently too shy to say anything. One Sunday evening the congregation was smaller than usual. After the services the minister said to the widow: "Did you like my sermon?"
"It was beautiful," she replied.
"I wish more people would come," he said.
She saw her chance: "So do I," she answered bravely tonight, every time you said "dearly beloved" I positively blushed."—Pathfinder.
